

GERMANS FACE NEW TROUBLES

Weakness of Government
Shown in Failure to Check Radicals.
REVOLUTION IS FEARED
Local Convulsions Seen in
All Sections of Country.

(Washington Herald-Public Ledger Service, Special Cable Dispatch.)
Berlin, Aug. 29.—The Breslau incident, which has involved anew the German government in difficulties with the entente, may be the aftermath of last week's troubles in Upper Silesia. In the ensemble they are a repercussion of a national state of feverishness which has manifested itself continually in the last few months in local convulsions almost everywhere in Germany.

These are merely the first signs of a greater revolution which is coming, is the kind of answer which officials invariably make to any request for an explanation of events. What happened in Kattowitz, Breslau, the Saar Valley and even Danzig is likely to happen in Berlin.

Revolution Feared.
The government issued an order yesterday that military detachments marching through the streets of the capital, especially in Unter den Linden, refrain from letting their bands play.

The whole trouble instead of being put up to the population of the district where outbreaks occurred is now simply charged to the government. It has been unable to check the nationalist agitation against the entente, on the one hand, and the Communist activities against the Polish elements on the other.

Propaganda Unchecked.
Exhortations for the blockading of Poland have appeared in the "Red Flag" and the "Call to Arms Against the Bourgeoisie," openly launched by the radicals. The development of the secret military organization in consequence is unabated.

The absence of interference has been mistaken for official approval and the chaos goes merrily on. Public attention is being focused on events in Danzig, but here too the helplessness of Germany is strikingly illustrated. The papers are mute on the subject. The government has an opinion but cannot express it because it is "neutral," and leading Germans say it does not do Germany any good to have an opinion.

FOUR ARE HELD IN LIQUOR RAID

Police Also Confiscate 27
Gallons of Bootleg and Five "Stills."

Four persons, five whisky stills, twenty-seven gallons of "white-lightning" and more than 500 gallons of corn mash in a state of fermentation were captured Saturday night by the police and revenue agents in raid on a deserted house in the woods of "Monkey Hollow," just north of Rock Creek Park.

The four arrested are believed by the police to have knowledge of a well-organized band of moonshiners who have been sending their product in wholesale quantities into Washington for several months past. They are Isaac Davis and Frank Davis, of 11 Dennison street northwest; John E. Green, 2803 N street northwest; and Blanche Brown, 227 Twenty-seventh street northwest, all colored.

The first clue was obtained by Police Sergeant McCormack, and two park policemen late yesterday in Rock Creek Park, when they seized a taxicab containing twenty-seven one-gallon cans of whisky, which had been loaded from a wagon.

Revenue agents and police later returned to the place and followed the wagon tracks in the muddy road to the house, where the five stills and mash were captured.

CLERKS ENTER BRITISH LABOR

White Collar Union Members Provide Intellectual Political Basis.

By EDGAR C. MIDDLETON.
(Washington Herald-Cross Atlantic Service, Special Cable Dispatch.)

London, Aug. 29.—With a nation-wide coal strike apparently assured, and the labor party lined up in support of it, England is watching with tremendous interest the new element of the labor party, which has never worked with its hands, but is the white collar section of the miners.

The coal crisis is the first to face the party since it admitted the brain worker as well as the manual laborer to its membership several months ago.

The introduction of this new element provided the labor party with the necessary mental elements to fight the stalled parliamentaries before whom in the past they had been powerless in debate.

The so-called intelligentsia of English labor, the independent labor party and the Fabian society, run by George Bernard Shaw, H. G. Wells, and Sydney Webb, all of whom have been invited to stand as labor candidates for parliament at the next election are extremely broad organizations. Included in their ranks are every profession, sect and class.

NEW WAR SURE, SAYS 'JIM HAM'

Former Senator Sees Revenge of Germany in World Realignment.

(By Universal Service.)

St. Louis, Aug. 29.—James Hamilton Lewis, former United States Senator, predicted in a speech before the American Bar Association here yesterday that another world war will be fought within four years.

"This conflict will be in the Pacific," he said. "It will be with a league of Japan, Russia and Germany against the United States. The revenge of Germany, the vengeance of Russia and the Oriental hatred of Japan will assail the supremacy of the United States to destroy it."

The people of our nation are blinded to the approach of this calamity and making no proper preparation to avoid it.

"The signs of today mean that the next President of the United States will command this nation through that war. There is no unity of patriotism for America as a nation."

Gold Rush Halted When "Nuggets" Prove Lost Gems

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 29.—The "gold rush" to Mile 39, near here, flamed last night. The news, four days ago, that four "nuggets" had been found near Mile 39 started a miniature stampede in that direction. Twenty-nine claims were staked in two days and prospectors continued to come until—

It was learned the four "nuggets" were pieces of jewelry lost by a homesteader.

WOMEN HINTED AS CANDIDATES

Miss Paul Says Party Convention May Name Presidential Ticket.

(By Universal Service.)

Nomination of women candidates for President and Vice President is the possible outcome of the convention of the National Woman's party, to be held in Washington within a few weeks.

This was intimated Saturday by Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the National Woman's party, who is leaving for New York to take part in a party council preliminary to the convention. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Abby Scott Baker, political chairman of the Woman's party. Miss Paul said:

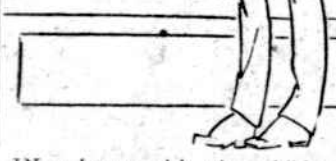

"Certain groups in the party advocate the formation of a separate women's political party with candidates and a platform. Other groups urge that we work for the elimination of discrimination against women in existing political parties. Still other groups assert that the party in securing a Federal suffrage amendment has fulfilled its purpose and is no longer needed. Decision by a majority of the executive committee will determine future action."

The first day of the convention will be devoted to a memorial service at the Capitol in honor of suffrage pioneers. Memorial busts of Susan B. Anthony, Lucretia Mott and Elizabeth Cady Stanton will be presented to the Hall of Fame by the Woman's party. Four hundred delegates will represent forty-eight State branches of the party at the convention.

USES RELIGION TO TRAP THIEF

Detective Plays Evangelist
And Wins Confession
From Woman.

Assuming the role of an evangelist, Precinct Detective Burke, of the Eighth precinct Saturday night succeeded in wringing from Cora Brown, alias Elizabeth Brent, colored, who three months ago was released from the Richmond penitentiary where she was serving a sentence for house-breaking, the names and addresses of two people, one a Washingtonian and the other of Alexandria, Va., from whom she stole two diamond rings.

Burke arrested the woman while she was loitering in the vicinity of the home of Col. Wall, 2006 F street northwest, which had just been entered and a small amount of money stolen.

When confronted by her mother who pleaded with her to tell the truth the woman refused to admit that she was guilty of entering the F street place. When Burke, aided by Policeman George Hellmuth, sprang his religious role she quickly broke down and admitted entering the home of Jennie Katz, 1704 Sixteenth street, where she stole a $500 diamond ring. She also said she had stolen a ring valued at $200 from a house at 620 South Pitt street, Alexandria, Va. She told the detective she found the doors of both houses unlocked.

Rupture Kills 7,000 Annually

Seven thousand persons each year are laid away—the burial certificate being marked "Rupture." Why? Because the unfortunate ones had neglected themselves and had merely taking care of the sign (swelling) of the affliction and paying no attention to the cause. What are you doing? Are you neglecting yourself by wearing a true, appliance, or whatever name you choose to call it? At best, the true is only a makeshift—a false prop against a collapsing wall—and cannot be expected to act as more than a mere mechanical support. The binding pressure retards blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of that which they need most—nourishment.

But science has found a way, and every true sufferer in the land is invited to make a FREE test right in the privacy of their own home. The PLAPAO method is unquestionably the most scientific, logical and successful self-treatment for rupture the world has ever known.

The PLAPAO PAD when adhering closely to the body cannot possibly slip or shift out of place, therefore, cannot chafe or pinch. Soft as velvet—easy to apply— inexpensive. To be used whilst you work and whilst you sleep. No straps, buckles or springs attached.

Learn how to close the hernial opening as nature intended so the rupture can't come down. Send your name today to PLAPAO CO., Block 248, St. Louis, Mo., for FREE trial PLAPAO and the information necessary. Ad.

ARMY LOCATES YANKEE GRAVES

Soldiers Buried in Britain
Soon to Be Returned to America.

By SIDNEY B. CAVE.
(Washington Herald-Cross Atlantic Service—Special Cable Dispatch.)

London, Aug. 29.—The graves of practically all of the 2,500 Americans buried in England and Scotland have been identified by the graves registration section of the United States army. Work of removing the bodies to the United States has been begun.

Between 70 and 80 per cent of the bodies will be sent home, and it is estimated that the work will take several months.

The work of the Graves Registration Service is being carried out with the utmost efficiency, according to Edward Banwell, of Woburn, Mass., who has arrived from France. "The parents themselves could take no more tender care of the graves," he says. "The bodies of fallen chums even have been moved so that their former buddies can rest by their side."

COX INSURGENTS FORM D. C. CLUB

Anti-League Organization
Enters Campaign to Help Harding.

Stinging repudiation of the league of nations, as it is proposed by the Democratic nominee, marked the formation of the Harding Democratic club of the District of Columbia.

Half a hundred Democrats met last night in F. Edward Mitchell's office in the Columbian Building and elected Mr. Mitchell president; F. J. Ryan, vice president; Dr. George W. F. Boyd, secretary, and Guy W. Collins, treasurer. W. H. Clagett was appointed chairman of a general committee which will schedule a mass meeting in the near future for all Democrats who are dissatisfied with the administration's stand on the league.

At the meeting Saturday night there were thirty-four incorporators of the club. They do not wish to limit their party outright but will organize anti-league of nations men and women who are Democrats into an association that will support the Republican nominee at the polls this fall.

Mr. Mitchell sent the following telegram to Senator Harding yesterday:

"Two hundred former Democrats, believing in Americanism as against internationalism, organized the Harding Democratic Club of the District of Columbia today. Stand firm by your league of nations policy and you will sweep the country."

QUITS CHINESE JOB TO RUN FOR SENATE

(Washington Herald-Public Ledger Far East Service—Special Cable Dispatch.)

Peking, Aug. 29.—Paul S. Reinech has resigned the Chinese legal advisorship owing to the necessity of conducting a senatorial campaign in Wisconsin.

Reinech's memorandum urging that China adopt representative institutions, was well received by the cabinet, which has brought pressure to bear on the President for a prompt convocation of a national people's assembly.

The premier declares he favors an assembly, but that it is advisable previously to work out the method of election of delegates, the duration of the session, and powers of the assembly. He thinks such a convention should advise and not direct the government.

Runaway Slave Reward for Apprehension

Some of the ads that were chiseled on stone back in the days of the Pharaohs proclaimed the above. The evolution of advertising from those days to the present have necessitated many different experiments which have brought the art through the stage of the scribe and the barker to the present method of reaching thousands of people through the columns of the daily papers and other publications.

From the fact that the articles we use every day are those that are advertised most, we know that advertising is necessary in creating a market for goods and to hold that market open after it has been made.

However, speaking of ads in general, there are two kinds—a good and a bad. Both bring results, but one will attract more attention than the other because a little time has been devoted to making it attract the attention of the reader and holding his attention until your message has been conveyed. This can only be accomplished by devoting a little thoughtful study to it. Most of the large business houses have men in their employ to tend to their advertising. This being impractical for the smaller houses, a great many of them are afraid to compete, fearing that their ads will not compare favorably. Realizing this, The Herald maintains an Advertisers' Service Bureau, a department that is devoted to helping you solve your advertising problems and aid you in constructing a forceful advertisement—one that will attract and hold attention. This bureau is composed of men that understand advertising and know from practical experience how to attract attention. They will be only too glad to help you arrange your type and cuts, submitting for your approval a layout that will allow you to see the ad practically as it will appear in the paper, placing your ad at its best advantage by dressing it so that it may hold its own in any society.

A call at The Herald office or a telephone call to Main 3300 will engage this expert service for your individual attention.
